Here we are again
In our same old mess
Letting my mind run rampant with thoughts
But it's cause I'm human

I don't wanna let go
I love having control
But the weight is too heavy
I shouldn't carry it on my own

I trust you
I trust you
I trust you
To never let go

All of the times that you could
You never left me
Even when I gave you reasons why
You never did
And I know you never will

All of the times you have shown
The kind of love that
When I run you never hide your face
You never have
And I know you never will

Here we are again
You're still holding my hand
Though I'm unsteady
You don't condemn me
You hold me close

I trust you
I trust you
I trust you
To never let go

All of the times that you could
You never left me
Even when I gave you reasons why
You never did
And I know you never will

All of the times you have shown

Human -

The kind of love that
When I run you never hide your face
You never have
And I know you never will
